Concert Etiquette

The following is a list of basic guidelines for courteous behavior at concerts to help ensure that everyone has a good experience.

- Absolutely NO food or beverages allowed in the music building.
- Soft talking is okay while waiting for the performance to begin.
- Applause is appropriate when the director walks onto the stage.
- All guests should be very quiet once the director starts the program.
- In between pieces applause is appropriate—but no whistling or yelling.
- When the program is over it is okay to clap like crazy if you enjoyed it!
